Coming June 2015 to the Asbury Seminary Kentucky Campus.
Asbury Theological Seminary and Asbury University announce their fourth Wesleyan Studies Summer Seminar to be held June 2015. This seminar was established to develop and support research, writing, and publication in the broad field of Wesleyan studies. The seminar promotes the work of serious researchers by:

1. Making scholarly resources available to participants.
2. Fostering dialog between researchers and experts in the researcher’s field.
3. Creating an environment for conversation, study and networking among scholars in the field of Wesleyan studies.

The Wesleyan Studies Summer Seminar has been designed for those who are working on articles, dissertations, and book length manuscripts in the field of Wesleyan studies with an eye to publication. The fourth Wesleyan Studies Summer Seminar takes place from June 1 through June 25, 2015 on the Asbury Seminary Kentucky Campus with sessions being held on Monday and Thursday afternoons.

This Seminar is limited to ten persons.
Application includes: application form, a full vitae, a description of the current research project as well as a projected plan for publication.
